HIGHLIGHTS

Enhancing companies' credibility through audit ensures that stakeholders make informed decisions based on these companies' financial statements. In parallel, public oversight ensures audit quality.

The European Union (EU) statutory audit rules significantly impact how the public oversight of statutory auditors and audit firms is organised. Designated national public oversight bodies have the ultimate responsibility for the oversight of the audit profession. They can delegate certain tasks to other authorities and professional bodies.

This survey presents the impact of the 2014 EU audit legislation. Our findings show that the national public oversight bodies now carry out many activities previously in the competence of the professional bodies. Nevertheless, professional bodies continue to play an important role in this area working together with public oversight bodies to reinforce audit quality.

The survey also provides an overview of how the public oversight is organised in each of the 27 EU Member States and Iceland and Norway as members of the European Economic Area (EEA). It covers information on composition, funding, transparency and key activities of the national public oversight bodies and the extent of delegation of tasks to professional bodies. The United Kingdom, which applied EU Single Market legislation until the end of 2020, resulting in its audit framework in 2021 remaining consistent with EU practice, is included in the survey with respect to the subject matters as covered for EU and EEA countries.

This publication is based on the input of our members and it is part of a series of work done by Accountancy Europe on the 2014 rules on statutory audit. It is an updated version of our previous work:

- 2015 publication Organisation of the Public Oversight of the Audit Profession in 23 European Countries which presents the status before Audit Reform, and
- 2018 and 2020 publications Organisation of the Public Oversight of the Audit Profession in Europe and Organisation of the Public Oversight of the Audit Profession in 30 European Countries which presents the status after the Audit Reform

BACKGROUND

OBJECTIVE

Since 17 June 2016, new rules on statutory audit as introduced by the 2014 EU Audit Reform have been applicable across the EU³. They have a significant impact on the organisation of the public oversight of statutory auditors and audit firms.

This survey has been carried out by Accountancy Europe to understand the impact of these rules on the organisation of the public oversight of the audit profession as compared to the situation before the Audit Reform. It follows up on our 2015, 2018 and 2020 surveys Organisation of the Public Oversight of the Audit Profession.⁴

Based on the input of Accountancy Europe's members, the survey provides an overview of how the public oversight is now organised in each of the 27 EU Member States, Iceland, Norway and the United Kingdom (UK). For Iceland and Norway, European Economic Area (EEA) countries transposing the Audit Reform with a time lag, the information on these countries' implementation was clarified and updated in 2020/2021. The UK, which applied EU Single Market legislation until the end of 2020, resulting in its audit framework in 2021 remaining consistent with EU practice, is included in the survey with respect to the subject matters as covered for EU and EEA countries. This latest update of the publication from November 2021 also reflects legislative changes in several other countries.

INFORMATION PRESENTED IN THE SURVEY⁵

The survey provides, per country, the following information:

- Name of the national public oversight body and other relevant bodies
- Composition of the national public oversight body, its funding and transparency of its work
- Key activities of the public oversight body and delegated tasks to a professional body

KEY ACTIVITIES OF PUBLIC OVERSIGHT BODIES AND DELEGATION

Designated public oversight bodies have the ultimate responsibility for these activities:

- The approval and registration of auditors and audit firms
- The adoption of standards (professional ethics, internal quality control of audit firms and auditing), except for the adoption of standards, where those standards are adopted or approved by other national authorities
- The continuing education of auditors
- The quality assurance
- The investigative and administrative disciplinary systems

³ The new rules are included in the Audit Directive and Regulation; available at <http://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content/EN/TXT/?uri=celex%3A32014L0056>

⁵ Please note that we update information in this publication when we become aware of any relevant changes in national laws. This latest update of the publication from November 2021 follows Norway's full transposition of the EU Audit Reform effective from 1 January 2021 and also reflects legislative changes in several other countries.

Countries may delegate, or allow the public oversight bodies to delegate, certain tasks to other bodies and authorities.

According to the legislative text, specific criteria need to be met for this purpose:

- Conditions for delegation and tasks to be delegated should be specified
- The issue of conflict of interest is to be addressed prior to the delegation
- When the public oversight body itself has effectively delegated, it shall be able to reclaim the delegated competences on a case-by-case basis when necessary

The legislation provides for the delegation of certain oversight tasks from the public oversight bodies to professional bodies. However, there are restrictions with regards to PIE audits. Reference is made to the table below:

Key activities* of public oversight body	for PIE audits/auditors	for non-PIE audits/auditors
Approval and registration of statutory auditors and audit firms	may be delegated	may be delegated
Adoption of relevant standards	may be delegated	may be delegated
Continuing education	may be delegated	may be delegated
Quality assurance system	may NOT be delegated	may be delegated
Investigative and administrative disciplinary system	countries are provided with an option to delegate the tasks related to sanctions and measures, but only to a body independent from the profession	may be delegated

* National public oversight body has ultimate responsibility for the oversight of delegated activities

COMMITTEE OF EUROPEAN AUDITING OVERSIGHT BODIES (CEAOB)

The CEAOB is a committee set up for cooperation amongst national public oversight bodies at EU level.⁶ Established by the Audit Regulation, the CEAOB's role is to strengthen and harmonise EU-wide audit oversight, which is a key objective of the Audit Reform.

COMPOSITION

The CEAOB is composed of high-level representatives of the national public oversight bodies. The European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA) is also a member of the CEAOB (without voting rights) while the European Banking Authority (EBA) and the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority (EIOPA) are merely observers.

OBJECTIVES

The strategic objectives of the CEAOB are to improve audit quality and confidence in audits through the following activities:

⁶ More information available at https://ec.europa.eu/info/business-economy-euro/banking-and-finance/financial-reforms-and-their-progress/regulatory-process-financial-services/expert-groups-comitology-and-other-committees/committee-european-auditing-oversight-bodies_en

- Develop cooperation and consistency among the public oversight bodies
- Contribution to technical assessments and provision of advice to the EC and to public oversight bodies
- Effective communications and outreach to external parties, i.e. audit firms, professional bodies, standard-setters, investors and other stakeholders
- Market monitoring, i.e. risks to audit quality, market concentration and performance of audit committees

MAIN TASKS

The main tasks of the CEAOB are:

- Facilitating exchange of information, expertise and best practices amongst public oversight bodies
- Providing expert advice to the European Commission (EC) on implementation of the Audit Reform
- Contributing to equivalence and adequacy assessment
- Contributing to the technical examination of the ISAs
- Improving cooperation mechanisms for the oversight of audits of PIEs

This survey could help the CEAOB achieve its objectives and perform its tasks.

FINDINGS

SUMMARY

The organisation of the public oversight across Europe is still very diverse. This survey demonstrates that there are differences amongst countries mainly in:

- The public oversight bodies having/ not having set up an advisory committee
- The source of funding of the public oversight bodies
- The level of transparency of the public oversight bodies' work
- The activities carried out by the public oversight bodies versus the activities delegated to the professional bodies

Overall, in many countries, activities previously (before the 2014 Audit Reform) in the competence of the professional bodies are now carried out by the public oversight bodies. Therefore, part of the funding of the professional bodies coming from the audit firms is now transferred to the public oversight bodies. Nevertheless, professional bodies continue to play an important role in this area working together with public oversight bodies to reinforce audit quality.

MAIN FINDINGS

The main findings of this survey compare the situation before the 2014 EU Audit Reform with the current situation when the 2014 audit legislation applies. They are as follows:

NEWLY ESTABLISHED PUBLIC OVERSIGHT BODIES IN SEVEN COUNTRIES

In Austria, Belgium, Cyprus, Finland, Germany, Poland and Romania, a new public oversight body has been established following the 2014 EU Audit Reform.

ADVISORY COMMITTEES SET UP IN 13 COUNTRIES

In Austria, Belgium, Cyprus, the Czech Republic, Denmark, Germany, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Slovakia, Spain and the UK, an advisory committee has been set up to support the public oversight body.

These countries have made use of the option that allows countries and competent authorities to consult experts and practitioners. This mechanism allows the public oversight body to make use of up-to-date expertise and experience from practitioners regarding the workings of the audit profession and the conduct of statutory audits.

DIVERGING SOURCES OF FUNDING OF THE PUBLIC OVERSIGHT BODIES

In most European countries, the entire – or significant share of it – public oversight body's budget comes from fees levied on the audit profession. This is done either by direct fees levied on the auditors/ audit firms or indirectly by imposing fees on the professional bodies.

In Bulgaria, Croatia, the Czech Republic, Latvia, Lithuania and Romania, the public oversight body is fully or predominantly funded through the state budget.

TRANSPARENCY OF THE PUBLIC OVERSIGHT BODIES' WORK VARIES

In seven countries – Bulgaria, Denmark⁷, Estonia, Ireland, the Netherlands, Norway and the UK⁸ – individual audit firm quality or other inspections' results are published and made publicly available. In other countries, overall national results are published.

⁷ This only relates to quality reviews of PIE audit firms, not to audit firms auditing non-PIEs.

⁸ In relation to PIE auditors and any firms where an audit has been retained by the Financial Reporting Council (FRC).

In ten countries – Denmark⁹, Finland, France, Greece, Ireland, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Slovakia, Spain and the UK¹⁰ – disciplinary measures and sanctions, or at least certain categories of these, are published on a name basis. In other countries, this is done on an anonymous basis.¹¹

DIFFERENT DEGREE OF DELEGATION OF THE KEY ACTIVITIES ACROSS EUROPE

The possibility to delegate certain tasks provides a level of flexibility to countries and their designated public oversight bodies.

There is a different degree of delegation of the key activities across Europe. In some countries, the public oversight body is tasked with all or the majority of the key activities as it has decided not to delegate these to the professional body. In other countries, most of the activities have been delegated.

Graph 1 below presents the delegation of tasks for audits of PIEs and Graph 2 for audits of non-PIEs¹² in 27 EU Members States, Iceland, Norway and the UK:

Public oversight Delegation of tasks for audits / auditors of PIEs

Graph 1 above shows that for audits of PIEs, the public oversight bodies have delegated/ partially delegated to the professional bodies:

- Approval/ registration of statutory auditors and audit firms in 13 countries
- Standard setting in 16 countries
- Continuing education in 23 countries

For audits of PIEs, continuing education is the most frequently delegated task. It has been delegated in a clear majority of the 30 European countries. Standard setting has been delegated in approximately half of the countries.

⁹ This concerns only ‘withdrawal of approval’, other disciplinary measures and sanctions are not published on a name basis.

¹⁰ Recognised Supervisory Bodies (RSBs) can exercise discretion with regard to non-PIE audits and auditors.

¹¹ In addition, note that in Sweden, decisions on disciplinary measures and sanctions are made publicly available on an anonymous basis. However, the public can request further information on individual cases, in which case the name would also be included in the information provided.

¹² The option ‘Delegated’ in the graphs is used in cases of full as well as partial delegation (i.e. collaboration between a public oversight body and a professional body) of a task to a professional body.

Public oversight Delegation of tasks for audits / auditors of non-PIEs

Graph 2 above shows that for audits of non-PIEs, the public oversight bodies have delegated/ partially delegated to the professional bodies:

- Approval/ registration of statutory auditors and audit firms in 13 countries
- Standard setting in 16 countries
- Continuing education in 23 countries
- Quality assurance in 16 countries
- Investigative and disciplinary administrative system in 9 countries

For audits of non-PIEs, continuing education is the most frequently delegated task. It has been delegated in a clear majority of the 30 European countries. Standard setting and Quality assurance have been delegated in approximately half of the countries.

ORGANISATION OF PUBLIC OVERSIGHT

National public oversight body	Auditor Oversight Commission Abschlussprüferaufsichtsstelle (APAS)	Is it a newly created authority? Yes
Website	http://www.bafa.de/DE/Bundesamt/
Professional body	Institute of Public Auditors Institut der Wirtschaftsprüfer (IDW) Chamber of Public Accountants ²⁶ Wirtschaftsprüferkammer (WPK)

COMPOSITION OF NATIONAL PUBLIC OVERSIGHT BODY

The APAS is an authority in the functional sense, which is organisationally integrated into the Federal Office for Economic Affairs and Export Control²⁷ (BAFA) as a Directorate-General.

In accordance with its areas of responsibility, the APAS is divided into two subordinate directorates, each comprising four divisions:

Inspections and Quality Control Directorate

This directorate conducts routine inspections of audit firms that audit PIEs²⁸. It is also responsible for supervision of the system of quality control that has been established at the WPK. The Legal Affairs Division is also assigned to this directorate.

The Enforcement and Policy Matters Directorate

This directorate determines what action is to be taken on an ad-hoc basis if there is concrete evidence of a breach of professional duty in the auditing of relevant companies²⁹. It is also responsible for overseeing the tasks that fall within the remit of the WPK and monitors developments in the market for the auditing of relevant companies³⁰. In addition, the division with responsibility for dealing with policy issues and with international collaboration in the area of auditor oversight is assigned to this directorate. The overwhelming majority of staff currently employed by the APAS were transferred from the former Auditor Oversight Commission (AOC) and the WPK when the new body was established.

The APAS has two panels. These were established as the 'Inspections' and 'Enforcement' (professional supervision) Panels. Each panel consists of one chairperson and four other members. The head of the responsible directorate acts as chairperson in each case. The other four members must not be part of the leadership of the APAS. All members of a panel must have acquired the qualifications required for a career as a higher-grade civil servant, and at least two members of each panel must also possess the qualifications required to hold judicial office. In addition, all members must possess sufficient expertise in the fields that are relevant for statutory audits.

²⁶ Auditors in private practice belong to WPK's membership.

²⁷ Bundesamt für Wirtschaft und Ausfuhrkontrolle.

²⁸ As defined by Section 319a (1) Sentence 1 of the German Commercial Code – Handelsgesetzbuch (HGB).

²⁹ According to Section 319a HGB.

³⁰ According to Section 319a HGB.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Consulting Committee³¹ advises the APAS on the fulfilment of its duties and may also make recommendations on the overall development of oversight practices. Members of the Consulting Committee are appointed by the Federal Ministry for Economic Affairs and Energy for a period of four years.

FUNDING

The APAS is part-funded from the Federal Budget. However, fees are charged for individually attributable services in accordance with the Act on the Profession of Auditors, in particular for inspections of auditors of certain companies³² (i.e., PIEs) and for professional supervision measures.

These fees are charged on the basis of the ordinance on fees of the APAS at the Federal Office of Economics and Export Control within the Federal Ministry for Economic Affairs and Energy, which was published in the Federal Law Gazette³³. This document regulates in particular the charging of fees in accordance with the schedule of fees that is attached as an appendix to the ordinance, as well as the levying of charges. This schedule of fees specifies the fee structures that apply to the conducting of inspections, the agreement of conditions and arrangement of special inspections, the imposition of professional supervision measures, the serving of (provisional) prohibition orders and fines, as well as the publication and evaluation of transparency reports.

TRANSPARENCY

As a supplement to the legal framework provided by the Act on the Profession of Auditors³⁴ (WPO) and the 2014 EU Audit Regulation, the Chief Executive Director of the APAS has issued rules of procedure for conducting inspections³⁵ and investigations of professional conduct³⁶, which were approved by the Federal Ministry for Economic Affairs and Energy. The rules of procedure regulate the organisation, planning and implementation of procedures relating to professional oversight, for example. The rules of procedure for the APAS are publicly available on the BAFA's website.

The annual report of the BAFA³⁷ published on its website includes a section on the APAS.

The APAS' annual work program, internal rules and procedural rules are also available in separate publications³⁸.

Individual firm inspection results and decisions on sanctions are not publicly available. However, the PCAOB publishes results of joint inspections of German auditors performed together with the APAS.

The 2021 German law strengthening the integrity of the German financial market (FISG) has made certain changes that impact the interaction of supervisory authorities. This includes freeing the APAS from its previous confidentiality requirements so as to permit certain Federal Ministries (specifically including the APAS) to share certain specific information amongst themselves.³⁹

³¹ The structure of the Consulting Committee of the APAS is in accordance with Article 2 Section 3 of the German Audit Reform Act (APAReG).

³² According to Section 319a HGB.

³³ 2016 Part I, number 34, page 1615 ff.

³⁴ Wirtschaftsprüferordnung.

³⁵ In accordance with Section 66a (6) Sentence 1 Number 1 and 62b of the WPO.

³⁶ In accordance with Section 66a (6) Sentence 1 Numbers 2 and 3 of the WPO.

³⁷ Also available in English.

³⁸ In German only.

³⁹ This law also impacts Article 323, Paragraph 5 of the German Commercial Code (Handelsgesetzbuch HGB) which implements Article 7 of the EU Audit Regulation, i.e. it now allows auditors to report directly to the public prosecutor, which was not possible before FISG.

* National public oversight body has ultimate responsibility for the oversight of delegated activities

SCOPE OF ACTIVITIES OF NATIONAL PUBLIC OVERSIGHT BODY

Oversight of auditors' compliance with legal and professional regulations and guidelines, including ethical standards of professional practice such as the obligation to remain independent and sanctioning of any infringements are among the main duties of the new auditor oversight body APAS.

Routine inspections of auditors of PIEs

The inspections⁴² must, as a minimum requirement, incorporate the following elements as specified by Article 26 of the 2014 EU Audit Regulation:

- An evaluation of the structure of the audit firm's internal quality assurance system
- An adequate assessment of compliance with quality assurance measures in the processes and procedures used and a review of the audit documentation compiled for PIEs in order to determine the effectiveness of the internal quality assurance system
- An evaluation of the content of the latest annual transparency report published by the audit firm, taking account of the results of the inspection

Investigations relating to audits of PIEs

The APAS initiates non-routine enforcement or professional oversight procedures in cases where there is sufficient evidence of a breach of professional duty in connection with the conducting of statutory audits of PIEs⁴³. Evidence of breaches of professional duty may come, in particular, from communications from the inspectors, the German Financial Reporting Enforcement Panel (DPR) [operational until 31.12.2021]⁴⁴ and Federal Financial Supervisory Authority (BaFin), as well as from complaints and publicly accessible information, such as media reports.

⁴⁰ Within the remit of the APAS, delegated to the WPK.

⁴¹ Pursuant to Article 317 Section (5) of the HGB, the ISAs as formally adopted by the EU Commission are to be applied in performing a statutory audit of financial statements in Germany. Pending adoption of the ISAs by the EU Commission, auditing standards are developed by the IDW.

⁴² Inspections conducted in accordance with Sections 66a (6) Sentence 1 Number 1 and 62b of the German Law Governing the Profession (Wirtschaftsprüferordnung).

⁴³ In accordance with Section 319a (1) Sentence 1 of the German Commercial Code.

⁴⁴ The DPR's involvement in the German system of supervision is due to end on 31.12.2021.

The existing catalogue of professional oversight measures was extended and now includes reprimands that may be associated with fines of up to EUR 500 000, temporary prohibitions from certain activities or from practice, as well as disqualification from the profession of public auditor.

Non-PIEs: Oversight of the German Chamber of Public Accountants (WPK)⁴⁵

In addition to its oversight of auditors of PIEs, the APAS is also responsible for monitoring and promoting the quality of the statutory audits of all other companies. The APAS fulfils this legal mandate through its oversight of the WPK. The oversight of auditors that provide auditing services to companies other than PIEs is delegated by the APAS to the WPK in the context of professional self-governance. The APAS thus has ultimate responsibility for all decisions by the WPK and has ultimate decision-making power.

ACTIVITIES DELEGATED TO A PROFESSIONAL BODY

The APAS does not delegate its activities in its own right, however under German law⁴⁶, the following tasks are assigned to the professional body WPK:

- Professional competence testing
- Matters relating to registration, including appointments and the granting and withdrawal of recognition
- Standards setting of ethical standards
- Oversight of ongoing training and qualification
- Quality assurance
- Issuing of rules governing professional practice
- Professional oversight

Pending adoption of the ISAs by the EU Commission, auditing standards are developed by the IDW.

⁴⁵ As noted earlier, auditors in private practice belong to WPK's membership.

⁴⁶ Sections 4 and 57 WPO.

ACTIVITIES DELEGATED TO A PROFESSIONAL BODY

At present, the SOEL together with the HAASOB are responsible for the following activities:

- Organisation of Professional Examination
- Licensing/ registration of all statutory auditors
- CPD monitoring
- Non-PIE audit quality assurance

Organisation of professional examination

The purpose of professional examination is to establish a high level of knowledge in the required subjects as well as the due application of theoretical knowledge in practice. Professional and other special examinations are under the supervision and control of the HAASOB. The HAASOB has assigned⁵² the organisation and execution of these projects to the SOEL by specifying the duties and the conditions under which they are carried out. The Board of Directors of the HAASOB decides on any substantive or procedural issue related to the organisation and conduct of professional and other special professional examinations. As per the Regulatory Act 001/2017, the Professional Examinations Committee was constituted to oversee these tasks.

Licensing/ registration of all statutory auditors

To exercise their profession, statutory auditors and audit firms are duly registered in the Public Register kept by the HAASOB. Upon registration in the Public Register, every certified auditor and each audit firm receives a registration number. The Public Register is kept in an electronic form, can be accessed via electronic means and is open to the public.

Regulatory Act 003/2017 of HAASOB sets out the procedures, the supporting documents and any other details for the registration of auditors and audit firms in the Public Registry. Only certified auditors or audit firms, members of the professional body SOEL, are duly licensed to practice in Greece.

⁵¹ National Gazette A 174.

⁵² Within the framework of this supervision and control under the Regulatory Act 001/2017.

Statutory auditors working with an audit firm may carry out statutory audits in the name of this audit firm.

The SOEL gathers and records the above-mentioned supporting documents duly submitted by CPAs and informs the HAASOB on the validity, accuracy and completeness of the submitted information, indicating potential lack or inconsistency. The SOEL also keeps a register of trainee CPAs, which includes all annual information submitted by auditors and/ or audit firms to the HAASOB and the SOEL regarding their education and training, as well as any other legal aspect of their professional development to become CPAs.

CPD monitoring

Regulatory Act 005/2017 of the HAASOB sets out the procedures by which the SOEL defines, specialises and monitors the main features of the CPD training program of auditors, e.g. duration, content, adequacy, evaluation, in the frame of the IFAC's IES 7. In special circumstances, the Supervisory Board of the SOEL draws up extraordinary programs with the same procedures as above. These programs are submitted to the HAASOB for approval regarding their duration and adequacy.

To facilitate monitoring of the CPD training programs, the HAASOB established the CPD Committee previously described.

Non-PIE audit quality assurance

The authority to perform duties related to quality assurance reviews and inspections is delegated to the SOEL⁵³.

According to the Law, a five-member Quality Control Committee (EPE) has been established, which is constituted by decision of the Supervisory Council of the SOEL. The Chair of the EPE is appointed by the Supervisory Council of the SOEL, two of its members with their deputies are appointed upon proposal of the Board of Directors of the HAASOB and the other two members with their deputies are elected by the General Assembly of the SOEL. The term of office of members is three years and they may be reappointed. The Chair and the members of the EPE are non-practitioners of recognised prestige and wider acceptance with proven experience and scientific training on statutory audits. The cost of carrying out the quality controls by the EPE is borne by the SOEL. By decision of its Board of Directors, the HAASOB may entrust the quality control of CPAs and audit firms that perform audits of non-PIE entities to the Quality Control Committee (EPE). The HAASOB has the lawful right to perform its own Quality Controls. The above decision specifies the tasks assigned and the conditions under which they are to be carried out.

The HAASOB and the SOEL are working closely to determine the framework of the aforementioned cooperation.

⁵³ As per Art 33 of Law 4449/2017.

SCOPE OF ACTIVITIES OF NATIONAL PUBLIC OVERSIGHT BODY

The scope of activities of the AVNT is as follows:

- Granting, suspending and withdrawing auditor registration, and organising the auditors' exams. The AVNT maintains oversight and can also mediate in resolving disputes relating to professional exams between prospective auditors and the LAR
- Standard setting and endorsement of standards as the AVNT issues Business Accounting Standards (Lithuanian GAAP) and their implementation guidance for non-PIEs. The AVNT also performs the translation of international auditing standards, which are then adopted by the LAR
- The AVNT is responsible for quality assurance of PIEs. It also exercises the oversight of the quality assurance system by conducting investigations in instances of significant deficiencies being identified by the review of non-PIEs performed by the LAR. Also, the AVNT approves the annual plan for quality assurance reviews as well as reviewers
- Disciplinary measures and sanctions which are imposed by the AVNT after an assessment of the results of inspections and investigations by the AOC. This activity is performed jointly with the LAR

ACTIVITIES DELEGATED TO A PROFESSIONAL BODY

The following activities have been delegated to the LAR: approval and registration of statutory auditors and audit firms, examination, continuing education, audit quality review where the AVNT oversees the performance by the LAR.

Standard setting and endorsement of standards

This activity is partially delegated to the LAR, in so far as it relates to international quality control and auditing standards. The Standards Translation Review Commission, within the AVNT, is tasked with the translation of international standards which are then reviewed and adopted by the Audit Committee which is part of the LAR. There are no distinctions between PIEs and non-PIEs. Under the new Law on Auditing of Financial Statements, which became effective on 1 March 2017, the responsibility to translate the ISA's and Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants was passed to the AVNT.

Quality assurance / reviews and inspections

The AVNT is responsible for quality assurance of PIEs, meanwhile quality assurance of non-PIEs is delegated to the LAR. Quality reviews are conducted by reviewers who are hired by the LAR only for this purpose.

Disciplinary measures and sanctions

This task is jointly conducted by the AVNT and the LAR, with AVNT being in charge. Disciplinary measures and sanctions can be imposed by both the LAR and the AVNT, often depending on severity with the more severe cases being handled by the AVNT. There are no distinctions between PIEs and non-PIEs.

ACTIVITIES DELEGATED TO A PROFESSIONAL BODY

At national level, according to Law no. 162/2017, as a general rule, the delegation of the tasks from the ASPAAS to the CAFR is done for a period of maximum five years, with the possibility of renewal, based on an assessment of the CAFR's operational capacity and how it fulfilled the delegated tasks during the previous period.

The Law 162/2017 had initially foreseen a one-year transitory period⁸² for settle-in process of the ASPAAS. In this period, the CAFR was rightfully mandated to perform its prerogatives under the existing professional regulation in place.

During this transitory period, the ASPAAS was legally obliged to perform an assessment of the fulfilment of the delegated tasks. Given the lack of any formal assessment until the end of the formal transitory year and given the end of the one-year transitory period, as a consequence, no task was delegated to the professional body until 2020.

Therefore, currently, in Romania, the ASPAAS is the competent authority for regulating and supervising the statutory audit activity for both PIE and non-PIE audits. The CAFR is the professional body that regulates and monitors the performance of all other audit activities, other than statutory audit.

The ASPAAS has delegated for a one-year term (with the possibility of extension) to the CAFR the following tasks:

- Continuous professional education (until December 2021)
- Examination on access to the profession (until March 2022)
- Professional competency examination (at the end of the training period) (until December 2021)

⁸² From 16 July 2017 to 15 July 2018.

- To collaborate with the ICAC in all matters related to the audit activity, especially, the law refers to the inspections of non-PIE auditors
- For non-PIE auditors, the ICAC may delegate the performance of other 'merely instrumental' tasks to the professional bodies. The new regulation, Real Decreto 2/2021, has developed this concept, which refers to the assistance in the review of documentation related to the audit activity and the preparation of a draft assessment resulting from such assistance, taking into account the laws and regulations relevant to the audit activity and, if appropriate, the regulations and common practice in experts' own field of expertise

⁸⁴ These activities are carried out by the professional body although this is not a delegation.

UK

In preparation for withdrawal from the EU, the UK enacted the Statutory Auditors and Third Country Auditors (Amendment) (EU Exit) Regulations in March 2019. This substantially transposed the 2014 EU audit legislation into UK law, be it with the removal of EU oversight, and ultimately took effect from 1 January 2021. In addition, substantial parts of the EU audit legislation had been transposed into UK law by the Statutory Auditors and Third Country Auditors Regulations 2016. As a consequence, the Audit framework in 2021 remains consistent with EU practice despite the fact that EU Single Market legislation ceased to apply in the UK as from 1 January 2021.

ORGANISATION OF PUBLIC OVERSIGHT

The government departments with authority over the public oversight of the profession are the Department for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy (BEIS), and the Treasury. The powers held by the BEIS are devolved to the Financial Reporting Council (FRC), and those of the Treasury are similarly devolved to the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) and the Prudential Regulation Authority (PRA).

⁸⁶ These are the professional bodies which are approved and monitored by the FRC, as responsible for offering an audit qualification.

The Board is supported by two governance committees (People Committee and Audit & Risk Committee) and by three business committees (Regulatory Standards & Codes Committee, Supervision Committee and Conduct Committee).

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The three business committees referred to above are also supported by non-voting Senior Advisors who attend Committee meetings and the Advisory Panel who can be asked to provide input on technical matters on project-to-project basis. The Advisory Panel is non-executive and is a pool of subject area specialists called on by the Executive / Committees.

FUNDING

The FRC's core operating costs in relation to accounting, auditing and corporate governance are currently funded by an arrangement under which the costs are met by the business community and the accountancy profession.

Core operating costs in relation to actuarial standards and regulation are funded by contributions from the pensions and insurance industries and the actuarial profession.

The total budget for the FRC for year ending 31 March 2022 is GBP 51 500 000, which includes GBP 13 900 000 for audit and a further GBP 10 000 000 in respect of enforcement costs which are for both audit and accountancy. Details of the funding arrangements can be found on the FRC's website⁸⁷.

TRANSPARENCY

An annual report, plan and budget are published by the FRC on their website⁸⁸.

Firm quality review results as well as information and decisions on disciplinary measures and sanctions are also published on the FRC's website.
